

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For more information contact:

Margaux Lawrence
NFL Communications
margaux.lawrence@nfl.com
214-801-4266

SZA TO HEADLINE SUPER BOWL LX HALFTIME SHOW AT LEVI'S STADIUM

Award-Winning R&B Superstar Set to Take the Stage for the Biggest Show of the Year

Santa Clara, California (Feb. 8, 2026) – The National Football League (NFL) has announced that Grammy-winning R&B artist SZA will headline the Apple Music Super Bowl Halftime Show at Super Bowl LX, set to take place on Sunday, February 8, 2026, at Levi's Stadium in Santa Clara, California.

This announcement comes as part of the NFL's ongoing commitment to featuring diverse, groundbreaking artists who push musical boundaries and captivate global audiences. Following Rihanna's 2023 performance, Usher's 2024 set, and the star-studded hip-hop tribute in 2022, this year's Super Bowl Halftime Show is expected to continue delivering a visually stunning and musically dynamic experience.

SZA, known for her chart-topping hits, emotionally rich songwriting, and genre-blending artistry, will bring her signature soulful sound, powerful storytelling, and electrifying stage presence to the most-watched musical performance of the year. With multiple Grammy Awards and record-breaking streaming success, the New Jersey-born singer-songwriter is set to deliver a historic halftime performance that will resonate with millions.

An Unforgettable Halftime Show

Produced in partnership with Apple Music, Roc Nation, and Emmy-winning producer Jesse Collins, this year's Super Bowl Halftime Show promises to be a spectacular fusion of music, culture, and innovation. The performance will showcase SZA's greatest hits, a state-of-the-art stage design, and potential surprise guest appearances from collaborators in the music industry.

"The Super Bowl Halftime Show is the biggest stage in the world, and I'm beyond honored to be a part of this moment," said SZA. "This is a dream come true. I grew up watching legendary artists own this stage, and now it's my turn. I can't wait to bring my music, my energy, and my heart to this performance and share it with fans everywhere."

"SZA is a generational talent whose artistry resonates with millions," said NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell. "Her unique sound, storytelling, and stage presence will make this year's halftime performance truly special. We are excited to see her bring something fresh and unforgettable to this iconic event."

Super Bowl LX – A Night to Remember

Super Bowl LX marks a historic return to Levi's Stadium, which last hosted Super Bowl 50 in 2016, when Beyoncé joined Coldplay and Bruno Mars in an electrifying halftime performance.

The game will air live on CBS, with coverage beginning at 6:30 EST. Fans can stream the Apple Music Halftime Show globally on Apple Music and access replays on NFL digital platforms, including NFL.com, the NFL App, and the league's official YouTube channel.

In addition to the halftime show, Super Bowl LX will feature a week of fan experiences in the Bay Area, including concerts, interactive exhibits, and meet-and-greet opportunities with current and former NFL stars. The Super Bowl Experience, the NFL's interactive theme park, will also return, allowing fans to participate in football-themed activities.

Fans can stay updated by following @NFL, @AppleMusic, and @SZA on social media and using the hashtag #SZAHalftimeShow for exclusive content.

About the Super Bowl Halftime Show

The Super Bowl Halftime Show is one of the most-watched musical events in the world, drawing over 100 million viewers annually. Since its inception, the show has hosted some of the biggest names in music, including:

- Michael Jackson (1993)
- Prince (2007)
- Beyoncé (2013, 2016)
- Bruno Mars (2014, 2016)
- Lady Gaga (2017)
- Shakira & Jennifer Lopez (2020)
- The Weeknd (2021)
- Dr. Dre, Snoop Dogg, Eminem, Mary J. Blige, and Kendrick Lamar (2022)
- Rihanna (2023)
- Usher (2024)
- Kendrick Lamar (2025)

With each year raising the bar for performance quality and production scale, the Apple Music Super Bowl Halftime Show continues to be a defining moment in both music and sports history.

About SZA

Solána Rowe, known professionally as SZA, is a Grammy-winning singer-songwriter celebrated for her soulful vocals, poetic lyrics, and genre-blending sound. Her critically acclaimed albums, Ctrl (2017) and SOS (2022), have shattered streaming records, earning her billions of global streams and multiple RIAA Platinum certifications.

SZA has collaborated with major artists across various genres, including Kendrick Lamar, Travis Scott, Doja Cat, and Phoebe Bridgers. Her 2023 world tour sold out arenas across North America and Europe, solidifying her as one of the most influential and in-demand performers of her generation.

She has been recognized with multiple Grammy Awards, Billboard Music Awards, and MTV Video Music Awards, and was named Billboard's 2023 Woman of the Year.

Media Contact:

Margaux Lawrence
NFL Communications
margaux.lawrence@nfl.com
214-801-4266

END